Job Description:

The [b]Petroleum Institute[/b] in Abu Dhabi is seeking applications for [b]Lecturers[/b] to teach Advanced Placement [b]Calculus[/b] courses in the [b]AUP Mathematics Unit[/b] beginning in the Fall 2010 semester.

[b]Applicants are required[/b] to have a Masters degree in Mathematics or Mathematics Education, and must have demonstrated experience and achievement in teaching at the secondary, foundation/bridging and/or undergraduate level. Candidates must demonstrate the ability to work well in teams, possess strong interpersonal skills, and demonstrate experience in problem solving and mathematical modeling. Other desirable attributes are experience in teaching Advanced Placement Mathematics courses and working with graphics calculators. Experience in the Middle East is preferred but is not a requirement.

The successful candidate will work closely with other members in the AUP Mathematics team in a continuing effort to refine the curriculum and to achieve common departmental goals. Other responsibilities include liaising with colleagues in the AP unit (Mathematics, Physics and Chemistry); AUP English and Computing Units and the Independent Learning Center, as well as liaising with colleagues in the Arts & Sciences Program (1st and 2nd year college).

Furthermore, an integral part of the Lecturer's responsibilities is developing the study skills and work habits of the AUP students in order to prepare them for success in their 1st year at the college level. This is carried out by working with the students one-on-one and by communicating with the counselors and other academic department members.

[b]Abu Dhabi[/b], the capital of the United Arab Emirates, is a modern city with a population of almost a million. Abu Dhabi has direct air links to most major cities in the world. Theatres, an international film series, art exhibitions, and music concerts provide ample cultural opportunities. Although founded just 37 years ago, the Emirates is one of the most rapidly developing nations on earth. Citizens comprise a moderate Muslim society in which freedom of religion prevails and women are respected and free to dress in western clothes.

[b]Salary/Benefits:[/b] The total compensation package includes a tax-free 12-month base salary, and a benefits allowance that covers relocation, housing, initial furnishings, utilities; transportation (automobile purchase loan), health insurance, end-of-service benefit and annual leave travel. Applicants must be in excellent health and will be required to pass a pre-employment physical examination.

[b]To Apply:[/b] Interested candidates should submit all materials online at [b]<http://www.pi.ac.ae/jobs>[/b]. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until successful candidates are selected. Only short-listed applicants will be notified.
