Job Description:

Stony Brook University's Department of Chemistry invites applications for a Tenure-track Position in Organic Chemistry, starting Fall 2010.

Appointment at the Assistant Professor level is expected, but other levels may be considered.

Stony Brook's proximity and unique access to facilities at Brookhaven National Laboratory and the Stony Brook University Medical School make this an ideal opportunity for interdisciplinary research, for example, in Medical Imaging.

Candidates must have Ph.D.s in Chemistry or closely related fields, as well as postdoctoral experience.

Candidates must have demonstrated excellence in innovative research and be committed to teaching at the Undergraduate and Graduate levels.

Application review will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Interested candidates should submit single PDF files, containing cover letters, Curriculum Vitae, proposed

Home to many highly ranked Graduate research programs, Stony Brook University is located 60 miles from New York City, on Long Island's scenic North Shore. Our 1,100-acre campus is home to 24,000 Undergraduate, Graduate and Doctoral Students and more than 13,500 Faculty and Staff, including those employed at Stony Brook University Medical Center, Suffolk County's only academic medical center. The University is a member of the prestigious Association of American Universities and co-manager of nearby Brookhaven National Laboratory (BNL), a multidisciplinary research laboratory supporting world-class scientific programs, utilizing state-of-the-art facilities, such as the Relativistic Heavy Ion Collider, the National Synchrotron Light Source and the Center for Functional Nanomaterials and the NewYorkBlue IBM BG/L+P supercomputer, owned by Stony Brook and managed by BNL. Stony Brook is a partner in managing the Laboratory for the Department of Energy and is the largest institutional scientific user of BNL facilities. As such, many opportunities exist for collaborative research and, in some cases, joint appointments may be arranged.
