What You'll Do

The Research Technician will carry out lab management duties, including but not limited to ordering, maintaining laboratory equipment and supplies and managing data and reagent storage systems. In addition, under supervision of the Principal Investigator, the Research Technician conducts a variety of experiments following established procedures and protocols, which may include genetic assays, PCR assays, creation of yeast mutants, and molecular biological research using DNA and protein detection techniques. The topic of investigation is cellular mechanisms of maintaining genome stability, including prevention of chromosome fragility and mutation, using budding yeast as a model system.

What We're Looking For

Basic Requirements:

- Knowledge and skills as typically acquired by a BA/BS in Biology or related biological sciences field
- 1 year of research laboratory experience

Preferred Qualifications:

- Prior experience coordinating laboratory activities/operations
- Research experience using molecular biological and genetic techniques

Pay Range

Minimum $19.80, Midpoint $23.55, Maximum $27.30

Salary is based on related experience, expertise, and internal equity; generally, new hires can expect pay between the minimum and midpoint of the range.
