Recognizing the underrepresentation of women faculty members in many fields, the positions are open only to qualified individuals who identify as women. The appointments are part of the University's Affirmative Action program, which is based on the special program provisions of the Ontario Human Rights Code. To be considered, applicants must self-identify as women on the Affirmative Action self-identification form (see below). The successful candidates will be joining a vibrant scholarly community at York, where we aspire to achieve equity and diversity in all areas, including gender equity.

York is an Affirmative Action (AA) employer and strongly values diversity, including gender and sexual diversity, in its community. Details of the AA Program, which applies to women, members of racialized groups, Indigenous peoples, persons with disabilities and those who identify as 2SLGBTQ+, can be found here or by contacting Christal Chapman, EDI Program Manager (chapman7@yorku.ca). York welcomes and employs scholars from all over the world. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Due date for completed applications: November 15, 2024.
