Job Description

The Department of Mathematics and Statistics at Old Dominion University invites applicants for an Assistant Professor position specializing in Statistics to begin in Fall 2025. This is an annual, 10-month tenure track appointment. We are specifically seeking applicants with research expertise in Statistics or Biostatistics. However, exceptional candidates in related fields that complement and enhance existing research groups in Statistics or Data Science will also be considered.

This Assistant Professor will teach core statistics courses at both undergraduate and graduate levels, pursue external funding, and publish in top-tier academic journals in statistics and biostatistics. The position carries a teaching load of 2 courses/semester with a reduced course load during the first two years.

Additional responsibilities include:

- Mentoring undergraduate students,
