focuses on the chemistry of materials development and/or characterization and who can foster future collaboration with faculty in Chemistry and also Chemical and Biological Engineering. Candidates should demonstrate the potential to establish a vigorous, extramurally funded, independent research program.

Teaching responsibilities will include undergraduate and graduate courses in chemistry related to the candidate's research, particularly in Materials Chemistry, Inorganic Chemistry, Physical Chemistry, Physical Organic Chemistry, or Analytical Chemistry.

More information about the department can be found at <http://chem.tufts.edu>

Qualifications: A Ph.D. in Chemistry or a related field (particularly in Materials Chemistry, Inorganic Chemistry, Physical Chemistry, Physical Organic Chemistry, or Analytical Chemistry) is required. Prior teaching experience and familiarity with modern teaching practices are preferred, though all candidates committed to excellence in teaching are encouraged to apply.

Application Instructions

All application materials must be submitted via Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/175284>. Applications should include (1) a cover letter, (2) a CV, (3) a research plan, which should contain a 1-page summary plus 2-3 research proposals (1-2 pages each), (4) a teaching statement, and (5) three letters of recommendation.

Evaluation of candidates will begin on December 5, 2025 and continue until the position is filled. All offers of employment are contingent upon the completion of a background check. Questions about the position may be directed to Justin Cronin, Chemistry Department Manager, at justin.cronin@tufts.edu.
