Application deadline: January 15, 2026

The Department of Mathematics and Statistics at American University of Sharjah (AUS) is accepting applications for a one-year visiting position, which is scheduled to commence in August 2026. Applicants with strong research profiles in all areas of mathematics will be considered. For full consideration, applications must be received by January 15, 2026. Only shortlisted candidates will be contacted. Apply at <https://acg-apps1.aus.edu/cas/empapp/apply.php?p=MTH-26-02>.

JOB QUALIFICATIONS: All candidates must hold a PhD in Mathematics or Applied Mathematics and have experience in North American-style education. Evidence of excellence in teaching across all curriculum levels and strong communication skills in English are required. Applicants should be actively involved in research, with a strong record. The ability to collaborate with current faculty members on research projects is considered an advantage.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE: A complete application consists of two PDF files. The first file contains a cover letter and a teaching statement. The second file contains the candidate's curriculum vitae and contact details for three references. These references should provide letters of recommendation commenting on the applicant's research and teaching abilities.
